WINE IN THE OLD WORLD.

Below we quote from a recent number of the "Army and Navy Gazette" of London, so that it will be seen that elsewhere besides in California the prices of wine rule low. Cyprus has been famous for her wine since the time of the Hospitaller or the Knights of St. John, afterwards the Knights of Malta. The ancient order of the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem were, we believe, the first to import the vine to Cypress, and for several hundred years the wine used to be stored in earthern jars of various sizes. Now the cooperage comes from France. Any one who has ever been in Malta surely never can forget the first taste of the Besca Ficcia (to use the Maltese name for the small birds that annually appear on the Island when the fig is ripe) preserved for two years in old Cyprus wine and then roasted in a coating of fig or vine leaves:

Sir Henry Bulwer, the present High Commissioner in the Island of Cyprus, has not been so fortunate in his weather as was Sir Robert Biddulph. For the past six years, a series of moist seasons, with abundant "early" and "latter rains," have resulted in a plentiful harvest of carobs, barley, wheat, and other crops. The vineyards, too, have been prolific, and, as no indications of phylloxera have made their appearance, the profits on their produce have been commensurate with the increased crops. The consequence of all this has been a rapidly increasing revenue and it was quite anticipated that the receipts for the current year would equal, if not surpass, the estimated expenditure, even after providing for the indemnity paid, on account of the military occupation of the Island, to Turkey. But, alas! the fates have not been propitious, and the drought which has extended over these islands and over so extensive a portion of Europe, has proved most fatal to the interests of the Cypriote agriculturists. Fierce heat set in during the month of October, baking to the consistency of a brick the already parched surface of the soil. In November and December scarcely a drop of rain fell, so that ploughing was impossible except where artificial irrigation existed. In January and February it was drier than usual; consequently the entire spring passed away before the greater part of the plains could be sown, and a large portion of the island is consequently lying fallow. The effect on this upon the country and upon the actual revenue must be most disastrous. It is true that the vineyards still promise well, and this fact is apparent by a recent determination of the local merchants, who have decided to combine and form a wine company at once, to buy up all large vineyards, store the wine upon the spot, and bottle it before it leaves the island. Hitherto this operation has been carried on in France, every available cask of wine being bought up by merchants at Marseilles, and shipped to that port. The wisdom of the Cypriote merchants in preventing this wholesale exportation will be exhibited plainly when we state that 1½d per oke, or about ¾d. per bottle is the gross amount received by the Cypriotes for their wine. And this price has to cover the cost of conveyance to the coast, maintenance in vats, taxes, etc. But, although the vineyards promise well, the cereal crops are those by which the revenue is most extensively affected; and there is little doubt that the current season will be a most unprofitable one. It must be borne in mind that ninety-eight hundredths of the arable land are entirely dependent upon the rain-fall. It is impossible to avoid the reflection that a great mistake was made by the Island Government in refusing the offer of the Suakim Rail when made in 1885 The cost both of wine and barley is enormously increased by their necessary conveyance upon mules and bullock carts from the interior to the coast. A large part of this expense would have been obviated by the laying down of the railway, at least along the plains The cost of construction would have been most trifling, certainly not more than a few hundred per mile. At the present moment, the military road from Limassol to Platres, and the other roads of the island combined, cost in maintenance many thousands per annum. A quarter of this sum spent upon the railway would have benefited the Island to a very considerable extent. Why such a liberal offer was refused it is difficult to conceive, except under the assumption that the authorities were asleep. At present the unfortunate railway is certainly of no good to any one. But in the brisk little Island to which we have been alluding, where the traffic is increasing every year, and villages assuming the proportions of respectable towns, a hundred miles of cheap railway laid down would have been a source of increased revenue and a wonderful convenience.

A FORTUNATE FIND.

Twenty-eight Thousand Dollars Found in a Chimney.

A Penurious Old Lady's Hoardings Uncovered After Many Years.

The talk of the neighborhood of White Rock Springs, El Dorado county, is the discovery of a large lump of money left by an old lady whose penurious propensities in her lifetime were well-known. As usual in the cases of old misers the venerable woman was credited with the possession of fabulous sums, but when her estate came to be sifted through the fine legal sieve it was found that she had very little actual coin, although she left a farm worth perhaps ten or fifteen thousand dollars. Connected with the story of the find that is the talk of the El Dorado comunity is a strange story.

Far back in the fifties, before the current quarter of the century had begun to cross Time's dial, Austin Keely met Miss Lou Dart. Keely was then keeping a saloon in Folsom, and Mrs. Dart, Lou's mother, a lady of the old school and a devout Christian,

HEARTILY FOUGHT THE PROPOSITION

That Austin one day made to her to marry the handsome Lou, who was then not yet 16. But as usual in such cases, the maternal opposition had little effect, and Lou and her lover became one.

After a residence in Folsom for a time the couple moved to San Francisco, when they found a windfall in the shape of a hundred-thousand-dollar fortune, which they made by a lucky investment in mining stocks. It might have been expected that with such a competence the two young lives might be happy for their remaining years, but, unhappily, the fortune proved a dire calamity. Keely was not satisfied with his marvelous good luck, and went back again with an ambition to bloom into a millionaire. The regulation result followed, and he lost all. Sudden dejection followed elation, as unexpected, unsettled his mind and he fell to drinking. Finally, after he had been reduced to extreme poverty, which his wife bore with true heroism, his mind gave way completely and he was retired to an

ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE.

Under these circumstances, which must have been trying to the young wife, the mother was induced to relent in her anger and soon went up to the maternal home in El Dorado. After a course of treatment Keely was discharged as cured and sought his wife at her mother's home. The old lady tolerated him, but that was all. Although cured of his mental ailment to the satisfaction of the asylum doctors, he was not a man of robust, vigorous mind by any means, and the vagaries of his late spell left their traces on his brain. The old lady, cranky, close-fisted and exacting, made it as unpleasant as she could for the weak-minded man, and one day exasperated him until in an insane fit he seized her by the throat and choked her until she died.

A trial followed in due course, but Keely was acquitted on ground of insanity, notwithstanding the great excitement created in El Dorado at the time of the murder.

A BRAVE WOMAN.

The shock occassioned to Keely when he realized his crime still further unseated his mentality until he became absolutely powerless to take part in the management of the farm which came into the possession of his wife upon the death of old Mrs. Dart. The little woman bore up nobly under these discouraging circumstances and clung steadfastly to her husband. She determined to lease the farm and remove with Austin to Sacramento.

The whole community supposed that Mrs. Dart had left an enormous fortune, but diligent search failed to discover it, and it was all the faithful wife could do to support herself and husband upon the meager rental of the farm. Finally even that pittance threatened to be withdrawn. The tenants had allowed the little old house to go to rack, and trees upon the farm were dying or dead from willful neglect. Mrs. Keely saw this and concluded to take hold of the farm and live upon it. Going to a Sacramento bank, she borrowed a few hundred dollars on the property and proceeded to invest it in remodeling the shabby little dwelling.

A FORTUNE IN A CHIMNEY.

To do this it was found necessary to tear down the chimney attacahed to the house. All hope of finding the fortune which everybody was sure had been left by the old lady had been abandoned when the fall of the chimney revealed a a strong box containg $28,000 in gold coin. Thus for the second time in life Mrs. Keely found herself in comparative luxury. The surprise was the more agreeable since with the welcome acquisition will come relief from the poverty which for years has been her lot. Poor Austin hardly retains sense enough to appreciate his good fortune. Everybody about White Rocks Springs rejoices in the good fortune of Mrs. Keely.

It is related as a prelude to this strange story that the old Mrs. Dart, to whose money getting proclivities the Keelys owe their release from the bondage of poverty, had a romantic career herself. She married a tall, fine-looking man of apparent means in New Orleans. But her marital happiness was of short duration, so the story goes, for she soon discovered that her husband was a professional gambler, and she at once abandoned him, being even to her dying day a woman with a will. She came to California and placed little Lou in charge of a convent in the Crescent City. Mrs. Dart located at White Rock Spring, and lived and died there. Her husband likewise followed fortune with the setting sun, but although he lived in Sacramento for many years he never spoke again to his wife. His name was Henry Dart.—Sacramento Bee.

Does It Pay.

The London Standard in speaking of the "Philosophy of Longevity," says: To make yourself miserable at forty in the wretched ambition to add a few worthless years to your score after you have turned sixty or seventy is certainly a poor-spirited sort of game. To spend one's life feeling one's pulse, looking at one's tongue and asking one's self if one is treating one's constitution quite fairly, is not life at all. It is to live in a hospital, or, at any rate, an infirmery. Still, there are some persons who are congenitally calm. It is their nature to take things quietly, never to be in a hurry, never to excite themselves. They are content to sit in an easy chair for so many hours when the weather is favorable, and after this manner regulate their existence by clockwork. They may live to one hundred, they may live to one thousand, but in truth they have not lived at all. The man who really gets the best that can be had of life is the man who, with a fairly good constitution to begin with, is ready to squander it at any moment and on every occasion in a sufficient cause. He may keep no account of profit and loss with his vital energy; he sees work to do and he does it; he sees pleasure to be enjoyed and he enjoys it. He is alive all his life save when he sleeps, and he awakes from each fresh slumber looking the world cheerfully and courageously in the face, and ready, and even eager, to be a combatant when there is a good, honest fight, and a runner when there is a good, honarable race afoot. He may not live to be one hundred, but he may well live to be seventy-five or even eighty. He may have a good career, if not so conspicuous, yet as active, as varied and as restless as that, say, of Mr. Gladstone, and yet not be really old when time registers him among the aged. "Better fifty years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay;" and better twenty years of uncalculated activity than the slow pulse and measured step of the circumspect snail that creeps surely on to one hundred. We are not denouncing centenarians. They are like angels' visits, few and far between, and they are too rare not to be welcomed. Moreover, we doubt not that they deserve their length of years. But it would be a misfortune if it was ever thought an object in life to live long. The object in life is to live, live generously, live bravely. As Shakespeare says, "repeness is all."

Hay Fever Cure.

Dr. Moorhead writes, in the British Medical Journal, that he has obtained relief from hay fever, his annual persecutor for thirty years, by hypodermic injection of one-twentieth of a grain of morphine and one two-hundredth of a grain of atropin night and morning. The relief was complete.

A remarkable boycot has been in progress at Galveston. A female compositor of that city, a member of the printers' union, married a non-union compositor and tried to get him to join the order. He refused, and the union voted a boycott in which the wife participated, by leaving her husband and beginning proceedings for a divorce.

New Industry for Women.

A new industry for women is beginning to evolve itself in New York, which may yet do much toward solving the vexed servant girl question. Some three months ago a woman of a good old New York family, educated and capable, left a widow with out money, and having served no apprenticeship to any of the industries by which woman earn bread and butter, began to think of putting her pride in her pocket and turning her notable housekeeping talents to account by looking for service in a family as cook.

Considering the matter further, it occurred to her that she could do better. Securing with some little effort, the project being a novel one, a clientage of half a dozen families in her immediate neighborhood that were groaning under dyspepsia, induced by "light housekeeping," she began to send out, three times a day, delicately cooked and daintily served meals. Her venture was so immediately successful that she looked up a New England housekeeper and a couple of stout-armed Swedish girls to help her, and her business sprang, almost in a single night, to the utmost dimensions that she could handle.

She has twenty-one families on her list at present, I think, to whom she supplies just that wholesome round of breakfasts, lunches and dinners that the average house mother would offer to husband and little folks. Fruit in season, in the morning, oatmeal or wheaten grits, fish, steak, or chops; a side dish, such as stewed kidneys, sausage, liver and bacon, eggs, coffee, tea or chocolate, bread and butter, milk and sugar. Soup, fish, a roast, three vegetables, dessert and coffee make up the dinner, all of which is sent out at a cost of $7 a week to a single person, $5 each for members of families though as what is supplied for two is sufficient for three, the cost per household is not reckoned in multiples of that sum. In a way the experiment is one in cooperative housekeeping; for, practically, the cost of everyday living divided among a number of families, purchases for all being made together, the labor for all systematized and simplified, and the waste of all minimized, the result being that each family saves nearly the full amount of its cook's wages, and is freed from the tyranny of Castle Garden besides. Two other women, emulous of the first, talk of starting similar enterprses. The scheme is in its infancy, but whenever a sufficient number of families within a radius of a block or two as near the great flat houses, can be interested in it, it has promise of an opening for an industry for women and of relief from divers perplexities for the families they serve.—Eliza Putnam Heaton in Brooklyn "Times."

A MISTAKEN POLICY.

THE Sonoma and Marin District Agricultural Association, having for its purpose the advancement and encouragement of all that pertains to the section it represents, both agriculturally, mechanically and otherwise, last year adopted the mistaken policy of sending to Angel Island for a military band on the occasion of its annual Fair at Petaluma. It is true bids were advertised for furnishing this music, and there were a number of bidders among the local bands in the district, notably among these being the Sonoma Brass Band of this city, but as stated above the Angel Island Band was awarded the contract. The Directors of the asscociation were evidently governed in their selection through a short-sighted policy of economy, as it is well-known that the United States military bands can be obtained on Fair occasions at less cost than our home bands for the reason that they are under the pay of the Government, and these little engagements in the country are a clear gain to them. The Directors ought not to expect the bands in their district to compete with these military bands and it is unfair to expect them to so. "The laborer is worthy of his hire," should be their policy and in order to follow out that principle the bidding for Fair music should be confined to Marin and Sonoma counties. It is to the people of the above counties that the Directors look for the success of their annual Fairs and for the fostering and encouragement of those industries which go to make them a success. This being so, surely the Directors ought to set an example by employing in the future one of the several excellent brass bands to be had inside the district over which they have jurisdiction.

OUR esteemed Santa Rosa cotemporary, the Republican, takes us to task for referring to the fitting up of the offices of the Sheriff and Superintendent of Schools in the Court House with handsome gilt mouldings. As the offices of the county officials are furnished in costly style with body Brussels carpets, walnut furniture, etc., it looked to us as a piece of useless extravagance on the part of the Supervisors to still further beautify these offices with gilt mouldings. The Republican, however, states that the mouldings are of the cheapest quality and that they were a necessary expense. We are pleased to note this, as our only object in touching upon the matter was to point out what we conceived to be a waste of the people's money, like that artesian well-boring business for instance. For the benefit of our contemporary we will state in conclusion that no reflection whatever was intended on our friends who occupy the offices alluded to above.

THE August Overland will contain the opening chapters of a novelette by R. B. Townshend, "The Acequia Madre of Santiago," a tale of the Pueblo Indians of New Mexico. It is an old-fashioned love story in those novel and picturesque surroundings. The chief characters are two young Pueblo Indians struggling against adverse fate and stern parents.

INFORMATION has been received by the State Viticultural Commission that the French vineyardists have at last found a remedy for mildew and Peronospera vitasola, which pest is next to phylloxera in its destructiveness to grape vines. The French remedy is the application of sulphate of copper, lime and powdered sulphur.

THE American Concentrated Must Company has incorporated with the following directors: J. De Barth Shorb, F. W. Sharon, Chas. Webb Howard, O. S. Howard and W. B. Bourn. The principal place for the transaction of business will be San Francisco.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, July 18, 1887.

The record of 100° in the shade on Saturday at the U. S. Signal Office is the highest ever recorded there. "In the shade" at the Signal Office means that the thermometer is hung in a sort of box on the cutside of the building closed in by shutters on all four sides. This gives both shade and ventilation, while, on the melting asphalt of the pavement below, neither shade or ventilation are to be found, but a temperature of 106° and 108° under cover. All work continued, however, both among the inside and outside forces of the Government in spite of the heat of the torrid zone without its merciful breezes.

The immense new vault for silver at the Treasury is being rapidly pushed forward, and the western front of the State, War and Navy Department approaches completion. Work on the portico and entrance and the grading of the sidewalk is daily progressing. Soon the western wing of this handsome building, which is an enormous parallelogram of grey granite, will present the same appearance as the eastern wing. The latter looks out upon the President's house and gardens, and is occupied by the Navy Department. The south wing is the State Department, while the north and west wings belong to the War Department. It is expected that eventually the whole building will be given over to the business of the War Department, and others erected for the Navy and State. When the inside work on the western wing is finished, one of the handsomest structures in the world will be completed, a structure presenting but one defect to the observer. It has too many windows. They are not far enough apart and give to the building the appearance of a huge conservatory. This defect is not noticeable, however, from a distance.

A complaint comes from the Medical corps of the Navy through Surgeon General Gunnell, of the difficulty of filling the continually increasing vacancies, caused by death, resignations and retirements, in the list of Surgeons in our Navy. At present there are fourteen vacancies in the Medical corps and Dr. Gunnell fears there will be many more if the actual hardships imposed upon young surgeons who enter the Navy are not removed. Eligible young physicians will not enter the Navy on hearing of the difficulties and disadvantages, and of the unfairness on board ship; and in reference to promotions that junior Surgeons have to contend with—the examinations are as severe and the requirements as great as those for the Medical corps of the Army, while the advantages of the Army are as much greater, that last year a number of young Surgeons of the Navy resigned to take po itions in the Army. Surgeon General Gunnell hopes through the statement of these facts and his recommendations inh is annual report to remedy these evils and to bring the Naval Medical corps up to the same standing as that of the Army. If he can do this, the vacancies in his corps will not long go begging as they now do.

The President and Mrs. Cleveland are expected here on Wednesday morning. If the heat has been as intense in Central New York as it has been in Washington, the President and his wife will be more comfortable at home taking it easy, than junketing around in hot red velvet lined sweat boxes, otherwise termed special cars.

The recent forgeries of Harvey, late of the Treasury Department, and the defalcation of Mr. Bacon, dispersing clerk of the Patent Office, lately deceased, with the memory of other irregularities committed by financial agents of the Government have caused the Secretary of the Treasury to order an investigation of the different disbursing officers of the several Departments. On Saturday, the investigators with a corps of expert accountants, began their examination with the Interior Department. The largest sum paid out by the Government is paid through this office. Cash payments amounting to nearly six million annually pass through the hands of Mr. Eware, the dispersing clerk. The examining committee arrived at the Interior Department early on Saturday morning, and though unexpected were heartily welcomed by the disbursing officer and his assistants. The books of the office were turned over to the Examiners and they had so easy a task that by three o'clock they had examined all the books, counted all the cash and satisfied themselves that everything was all straight in that branch of the Government.

That concluded the investigating work for the day. The other offices will be duly examined in turn. So much stress is laid upon every dishonest act, and rascals are given so much prominence through their misdeeds that we are apt to think that only scamps succeed, and to forget that honesty not only succeeds oftenest, but is the oftenest to be met with. The examination of the Treasury officials will prove that the rogues are the exceptions and honest men the rule, among Government employees, as it is the rule everywhere.

COUNTY CULLINGS.

[Democrat.]

The frost is said to have done some damage to the hops in the vicinity of Ukiah.

J. F. Cash, who is awaiting trial in the County Jail, on account of forgery, has completed three novels since his incarceration.

The market value of much fruit where not thinned out properly during its embryo state is diminished on account of its imperfect development.

The early grapes in Bennett Valley will be ready for harvesting by the 10th of August. It is generally conceded by viticulturists that the price paid for grapes this year will be higher than last, in consequence of the damage done by the frost and heat.

Charles Carleton, who was removed from the County Jail to the hospital a week or so ago, made his escape from that institution sometime last Thursday night. He had served about a quarter of his sentence of 90 days, for obtaining money under false pretenses from H. W. Hill, when taken sick.

[Republican.]

John Ingalls killed a white fawn in the mountains at the head of Knight's Valley a few days ago.

It is reliably reported that James Fulton, formerly of this city, has sold out his Los Angeles property for $800,000.

Two barns containing 65 tons of hay, the property of Frank Steel, about two miles north of this city on the Healdsburg road, was burned Monday morning between one and two o'clock.

D. W. Walker, of the Crawford ranch near Sebastopol, sent to this office this year's growth from one of his French prune trees, measuring seven feet and three inches. This is the largest growth which has yet been reported and speaks well of the productiveness of the soil.

Levi Alexander and Jimmie Walsh are interested in some land in Los Guillicos, Saturday they engaged in a row and axes and clubs were used freely. Jimmie claims that he was beaten over the head with a club and "Big Alock," as he is called, is limping from the effects of a wound in the leg, caused by an axe in the hands of Walsh.

The failure of the law to supply any remuneration for the Board of Supervisors, is causing no little discussion among the legal fraternity and others. Many theories are advanced and many plans offered for the removal of the pending difficulty. The law is declared by some to be unconstitutional, being at variance with that clause which says the legislature must provide for the payment of the State and other officers. This being the case the matter will be referred to, and governed by the old law and the Supervisors will receive their salaries, so it is claimed.

Weary of Life.

[Santa Rosa Democrat.]

Nellie Faylor, a young woman 17 years of age, residing with Officer Gardner's family on this city, took an overdose of morphine early Monday morning, with suicidal intent. Owing to the size of the dose it acted as an emetic and did not remain long enough in her stomach to accomplish the purpose for which it was intended, and with the assistance of a physician, the unfortunate young woman was placed out of danger from the effects of the powerful drug. She attended the festivities at Kronke's Park, Sunday evening, and was apparently far from entertaining such thoughts as are supposed to lead one to such an act, which she was frustrated in carrying out by her own eagerness. She informed her escort when returning home from the dance that she intended taking morphine, whereupon he induced her to give him the drug, which it appears she had concealed about her person. He subsequently returned it to her, thinking to inform Miss Gardner of the state of her mind. In contradiction of her action, she states that she had no cause to justify her in doing what she did and has apparently relented her folly. Mr. Gardner, who takes the place of a father to the young woman, knows of no reason why she should have wished to take her own life.

Sportsmen will relish the article on "Hunting the Grizzly Bear," by G. O. Shields, in the forthcoming Harper's, in which the traits of this most huge and savage of the bear tribe are illustrated by anecdotes from an experienced hunter and by drawings from J. C. Beard. The places and times and equipments for hunting this large game are also given.

Tenth Volume.

[Merced Argus.]

The Sonoma INDEX-TRIBUNE, published in the old town of Sonoma, by H. H. Granice, entered upon the tenth year of its existence on Saturday last and is in a flourishing condition. The present publisher purchased the presses and printing material together with the good will of the INDEX-TRIBUNE establishment a little less than three years ago, the paper having suspended publication for lack of patronage, and from the first issue under the new management was found to be upon paying basis and has continued to increase in prosperity and popularity ever since; being a faithful representative of the interests of the people of the town and valley in which it is located. The valley of Sonoma is rich in resources, the people are thrifty, intelligent and appreciative, and hence give a willing and liberal support to their local journal and are correspondingly benefited in having their interests represented, and their resources made known to the world. Continued success to the paper, and prosperity to the people of Sonoma, is our earnest prayer.

W. A. Tan and His Lottery Ticket.

The following is taken from the Santa Rosa Daily Democrat of last Wednesday: Warrants for the arrest of Hock Gung, Li Chu and Ah Fung, Chinese residents of Sebastopol, on a charge of conducting a tan game and selling lottery tickets, were issued by Justice Brown, Tuesday, on complaint of W. A. Tan, an Americanized Chinese merchant of Sonoma. The complainant, it seems according to Justice Brown's statement, to whom he recited his grievances purchased a lottery ticket from his less Americanized countrymen and drew a prize of $750, which for some reason was not paid. Mr. Tan was unremitting in his endeavors to secure the money and lingered about Sebastopol for two weeks, but was not successful. He determined to be revenged for his disappointment and trouble, and had recourse to the law in carrying out his design. Marshal Lowery has the case in charge and intends making the arrest to-day.

The Donahue Line.

[S. F. Call.]

Work on the Marin and Napa branch of the Donahue line is progressing very fast. There are between one and two hundred men working on it, and it is expected to be completed by October 1st. There will be at least a mile of bridges and piling and the bridges, particularly the one over Petaluma creek, are to be of the finest workmanship. Engineer Dobson of the San Francisco and North Pacific is authority for the statement that the survey for an extension of the Sonoma Valley Narrow Gauge is being rapidly dushed for ward to the new town site of Los Guilucos. He also stated that the line would be pushed through to Santa Rosa in spite of the Southern Pacific. The Santa Rosa and Green Valley prospect remains in abeyance for the present, owing to the lack of energy manifested by the people of the neighborhood.

THE INDEX-TRIBUNE returns thanks to its cotemporaries for the many complimentary notices which it received on the occasion of its entering upon a new volume last week. No one but a newspaper man can fully appreciate these encouraging words from the Press, as they fall like a sunbeam athwart the pathway of ye editor, whose life is not without its shadows and perplexities.

Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad.

The Alta says: "During the past six weeks engineers and surveyors connected with the Southern Pacific have made soundings and surveys in the straits of Carquinez for the purpose of finding out the most suitable place to construct a bridge. When the location and style of the bridge has been selected the Santa Rosa extension of the road will be built.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do the work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

An Excursion.

Last Sunday afternoon about 5 P. M. a party of twelve ladies and gentlemen left this place for a pleasure trip to Napa. Their conveyence was a four-horse stage engineered by our genial friend Granville Harris. All the occupants were in high spirits, and anticipating a good time, they gave vent to their merriment in jolly good jokes and songs, which seemed to rouse up the inhabitants in their quiet little homes along the road. After an apparently short ride they arrived at their destination just as the shades of darkness were beginning to envelope the beautiful little city of Napa. After a most sumptuous repast, which was served at the Napa Hotel, the entire party enjoyed a promenade along the principal streets, until arriving at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Nussberger, where the company were most agreeably entertained by their charming daughter, Miss Lou.

The following are the names of the party: Misses Etta Raschen, Annie Raschen, Clara Litzuis, Kate Litzuis, and T. Cullen. Messrs. O. Wagner, L. Johnson, L. Brattin, Chas. E. Tarrant, G. S. Harris and W. Gwynn.

Look Out For Tramps.

Three tramps were arrested on Spain street last Tuesday afternoon by Constables Vallejo and Sparks for stealing a roll of baling rope and three pitchers from S. Schocken's store. The trio gave their names as Jim Ryan, S. McCormach and Julius Fenton. The rope was stolen by the latter and was found where he had hidden it a few hundred yards west of town. The pitchers were stored away in Ryan's roll of blankets, where they were found after the men had been arrested. Wednesday the men were arraigned before Judge Small and pleading guilty to petty larceny were sentenced to the County Jail, one for thirty and the others for twenty days. They were taken to Santa Rosa, Thursday, by Constable Vallejo and are now probably doing service in the chain gang.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Mrs. Henry Raschen is lying quite ill at the Union.

Mr. A. F. Haraszthy and family and Mr. Henry Weyl are spending a few days at Skagg's Springs.

Messrs. G. P. Sears and Robt. Poppe left for Napa county Thursday. They will be absent several days and will visit the noted places of that county.

Mrs. H. H. Granice left for Merced last Wednesday morning, where she had been summoned by telegraph to the bedside of her uncle, Mr. D. Keogh, the retired lumber merchant, who is lying dangerously ill.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestion apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Good pasturage on Norborm's ranch. Plenty of water. Terms per month: Horses, $1 50; cows, 75c; under 2 years, 50c. Inquire at this office, or of H. Aylmer, Norborm's ranch. *

Real Estate.

Real estate in Sonoma Valley, particularly in the vicinity of this city, is attracting attention of late. Within the past few weeks the real estate firm of Raschen & Granice have been besieged by letters from the East and elsewhere about our climate, the price of land, etc. This is a good indication of a coming boom, and those that purchase Sonoma Valley property now will no doubt be enabled to sell at a large advance in the course of a few months.

Farmers desiring groceries and having the cash to pay for the same, can lay in a supply at Weyl's Cash Grocery as cheap as if purchased in the city. Come and be convinced* Trouble Ahead.

When the appetite fails, and sleep grows restless and unrefreshing, there is trouble ahead. The digestive organs, when healthy, crave food, the nervous system, when vigorous and tranquil, gives its possessor no uneasiness at night. A tonic, to be effective, should not be a mere appetiser, nor are the nerves to be soothed by the unaided action of a sedative or a narcotic. What is required is a medicine which invigorates the stomach, and promotes assimilation of food by the system, by which means the nervous system, as well as other parts of the physical organism, are strengthened. These are the effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine whose reputation is founded firmly in public confidence, and which physicians commend for its tonic, anti-bilious and other properties. It is used with the best results in fever and ague, rheumatism, kidney and uterine weakness and other maladies.

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever. —Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers. —C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until with a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier. —Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

By Taking

three bottles of this medicine I have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye. —Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored. Her cure is complete. —W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky. †† which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this God-given remedy, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. PIERCE thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

SATURDAY, JULY 30, 1887.

SO MUCH PATIENCE,

"O dreary life," we say, "O dreary life!"
And still the generations of the birds
Sing through our sighing, and the flocks and herds
Serenely live while we are keeping strife
With heaven's true purpose on us, as a knife
Against which we may struggle. * *
* * * O thou God of old!
Grant us some smaller grace than comes to bless
But so much patience as a blade of grass
Grows by, contented through heat and cold.

—Elizabeth Barret Browning.

Over the chamber floor.
And in pick ng them up she was very lax—

Over the chamber floor.

The good man made his way in at night—
Over the chamber floor;
His feet were loose though his head was tight—
Over the chamber floor.
He left his boots on the lower flight,
And every tack that the maid d d slight
He easily found w thout a light—

The Drug Clerk's Work and Pay.

Of all the toilers, retail drug clerks are the poorest paid. It takes at least three years to learn the business, and about the same time to get familiar with its details; so that you may say it requires five years to become a competent clerk. Now, this is so much the best part of his life that is thrown away, and for what? Simply to know how to earn $12 or $14 per week. A man who drives a car can earn more than that, and requires no time to learn. The drug business may not be a profession, although it is generally so considered, but at the least calculation it comes under the head of skilled labor. No one will pretend to deny that drug clerks are intelligent. From my experience with men in general I think they compare very favorably with any other class, and are far above the average. I know comparatively few young druggists who read Latin and Greek and are excellent English scholars. They study botany, geology and anatomy between prescriptions.

One thing is certain, a dunce can not work long in a drug store. He will be found out before he knows it. As a matter of fact, a dull and careless young man can not get a diploma from any of our better class of schools of pharmacy. The position occupied by the retail pharmacist is one of great responsibility. Errors made by the doctor are often corrected by the prescriptionist. The retail drug clerk is expected to be always on hand, night or day, wide-awake, active, and reliable; and no labor of like character receives so little compensation.—Drug Clerk in Globe-Democrat.

The Small Tenants of Ireland.

Sir James Caird states that there are 538 090 small tenants in Ireland who will be unable to pay any rent if the present low prices of pro uce continue. He classifies Irish holdings under nine heads, as follows; Two hundred and eighteen thousand averaging £2 r ntal, 195,000 averaging £7 rental, 78,080 averaging £12 rental, 46,000 averaging £18 rental, 47,000 averaging £25 rental, 24,000 averaging £35 rental, 14,000 averaging £45 rental, 24,000 averaging £75 rental, 12,000 averaging £2.0 rental. This makes a total of 659,000 holdings, on which the annual rent is $52,085,000. Many tenants farm two or more holdings, and Sir James estimates the number of Irish bona-fide agriculturists at 400,000.—Chicago Tribune.

Parting the Hair in the Middle.

Speaking of that fashion, in men, the idea that it is effeminate has long since been exploded. Some of the greatest men among us part their hair in the center. Among them may be mentioned Ingersoll, Roscoe Conkling his brother, Col. Frederick Conkling, Bishop Porter and hundreds of others ; ong army officers the clergy and statesmen. It is no more effeminate than it is masculine for a young lady to part her hair on the side; it is simply a question of what is becoming.

I know of a clergyman, who look manly and grand with his hair parted in the center, who looks actually foolish when his brow is covered by the hair parted on the side, as he wore it one day at the request of his wife, who laughingly declared that she never wished to see his hair parted on the side again. He says he has a good example in wearing his hair as he does—the pictures of the Savior have the hair worn in a like manner. I know several pretty young ladies who are made prettier by the hair being parted a little at one side. It shortens the face, and really looks more feminine, as does everything which covers the brow. It is only custom which makes us think otherwise.—New York Cor. Hartford Courant,

Everything Ragged Edge.

A new style of dinner card imported to New York is a continuation of the take-off on the present craze for Egyptian antiquities. The size is 6x4 inches, and the color is a mixture of orange and black, giving the card a water-soaked appearance. The edges are ragged and torn. On each are Egyptian figures. Another new style of dinner card is hand-painted in metallic colors, mounted on which there are flowers of different shades. Everything must be ragged edge.—Chicago Herald.

POISON IN THE ASHES

What the Mt. Lebanon Shakers Found—Incident in the History of a Quiet Community.

The Mount Lebanon (New York) Shakers are a quiet community, secluded from the fret and worry of the outside world. They are widely known, however, for their strict honor and probity in business.

The Shakers believe that nature has a remedy for every disease. A few have been found—the rest are as yet unknown. Many were discovered by accident. Others came to light as the result of patient experiment and research.

Nervous Dyspepsia is a comparatively new disease, growing out of the conditions of modern life. It is a joint affection of the digestive organs and of the nervous system. These two were formerly treated as separate ailments, and it was left for the clear-sighted Shakers to prove that the basis of this terrible and often fatal complication lies chiefly in the disordered and depraved functions of digestion and nutrition. They reasoned thus:—"If we can induce the stomach to do its work, and stimulate the excretive organs to drive out of the body the poisonous waste matters which remain after the life-giving elements of the food have been absorbed, we shall have conquered Nervous Dyspepsia and Nervous Exhaustion. And they were right. Knowing the infallible power of Shaker Extract (Seigel's Syrup) in less complicated cases of similar diseases, they resolved to test it fully in this. To leave no ground for doubt they prescribed the remedy in hundreds of cases which had been pronounced incurable—with perfect success in every instance where their directions as to living and diet were scrupulously followed. Nervous Dyspepsia and Exhaustion is a peculiarly American disease. To a greater or less extent half the people of this country suffer from it—both sexes and all ages. In no country in the world are there so many insane asylums filled to overflowing, all resulting from this alarming disease. Its leading symptoms are these: Frequent or continual headache; a dull pain at the base of the brain; bad breath; nauseous eructations; the rising of sour and pungent fluids to the throat; a sense of oppression and faintness at the pit of the stomach; flatulence; wakefulness and loss of sleep; disgust with food even when weak from the need of it; sticky or slimy matter on the teeth or in the mouth, especially on rising in the morning; furred and coated tongue; dull eyes; cold hands and feet; constipation; dry or rough skin; inability to fix the mind on any labor calling for continuous attention; and oppressive and sad forebodings and fears.

All this terrible group Shaker Extract (Seigel's Syrup) removes by its positive, powerful, direct yet painless and gentle action upon the functions of digestion and assimilation. Those elements of the food that build up and strengthen the system are sent upon their mission, while all waste matters (the ashes of life's fire) which unremoved, poison and kill, are expelled from the body through the bowels, kidneys and skin. The weak and prostrated nerves are quieted, toned and fed by the purified blood. As the result, health, with its enjoyments, blessings and power, returns to the sufferer who had, perhaps, abandoned all hope of ever seeing another well day.

TRIED IN THE CRUCIBLE.

S.S.S.

About twenty years ago I discovered a little sore on my cheek, and the doctors pronounced it cancer. I have tried a number of physicians, but without receiving any permanent benefit. Among the number were one or two specialists. The medicine they applied was like fire to the sore, causing intense pain. I saw a statement in the papers telling what S. S. S. had done for others similarly afflicted. I procured some at once. Before I had used the second bottle the neighbors could notice that my cancer was healing up. My general health had been bad for two or three years—I had a hacking cough and spit blood continually I had a severe pain in my breast. After taking six bottles of S. S. S. my cough left me and I grew stouter than I had been for several years. My cancer has healed over all but a little spot about the size of a half dime, and it is rapidly disappearing. I would advise every one with cancer to give S S S a fair trial

WON'T BLISTER.—Caloric Vita Oil takes the place of all pain killing lotions or liniments, poultices or blisters, and while its penetrating, healing, healing and vital action is tenfold more powerful than either, it will not chafe or blister.

Dr. J. Winchester, Columbia, Cal., says: "Have used Vita Oil with the most beneficial results; can endorse without hesitation your claim. As a family remedy for the relief of pain it has no equal in the world. In our household it has become indispensable."

"With a thankful heart I acknowledge the great merit of Dr. Smith's Caloric Vita Oil. I had suffered over 30 years with bronchitis and was seriously threatened with lung disease. I had tried all remedies and all climates with occasional temporary relief, but no cure. The use of two small bottles made me a sound man. "A BANK OFFICER."

A prominent druggist in San Francisco:—"We hazard nothing in saying it is the best pain curer and healing remedy ever used or known. It acts quickly, promptly and certainly in relieving pain.
